PLOT
Single volume made up of four different short stories.

World Apartment Horror: Itta is a mediocre member of the local yakuza who is ordered to evict a family of Asian foreigners living in a small, run-down house. What seems like an easy task soon turns out otherwise, as Itta discovers the house is haunted by a malevolent presence.

The Visitors: A wealthy Japanese family moves into a new home. They soon discover, at their own expense, that their new residence is filled with spirits “parked” there while waiting to pass on to the afterlife.

Waira: A malevolent entity spreads death among the ranks of a samurai army while searching for a warrior who is trying to escape to avoid being killed…

Joyful Bell: A man struggling in his relationship with his wife works as Santa Claus during the holidays, until he meets a mysterious little girl who needs help finding her father…
